SAD CASE OF SUSANCIDE

Did Col. John C. Everett's Game Rooster Hang Himself Because Kentucky Went Republican?

'NOTHER DAFFY DEMOCRAT.

A Democrat man of Maysville, Had a rooster named W.-J.-Bill; But having no sense He got hung in a fence He's dead and hanging there still.

He was a Democratic rooster you see And was said to be game as could be But he kept crowin' and cryin' For one William J. Bryan And went daffy as a bat, ha, ha, he!

Of the many loyal and valiant Democrats who stick with the old Democratic ship in calm or stormy weather, who breast the political foe and fight to the last ditch, honest and honorable in his mode of warfare withal, none is more conspicuous than our genial friend John C. Everett.

Mr. Everett is so intense and enthusiastic in his allegiance to his party that he actually impregnates all about him with his undiluted Democracy, simon pure to the core—a yard wide and all wool.

As a case in point we cite the following: In the rear of his big grain house in East Second street he has established a chicken walk where strut some of the best bred fowls to be found in the city.

Among the number was a handsome white cock that evidently felt its importance from the fact that it was a Jeffersonian brand of bird, and on Tuesday morning when the battle of the ballots was on and the atmosphere seemed surcharged with a premonition of a sweeping and decisive Democratic victory, this game cock of the walk strutted like a lord and crowed like a demon in anticipation of the culmination of such an event.

But, alas, and alack the Republican iconoclast, with his little ballot, smashed the poor bird's fond expectation into innocuous desuetude.

This bird was of a class to itself, proud, haughty and high strung, and when it learned of the overwhelming defeat that had befallen its beloved party, rather than endure the pangs and mortification of living under a Republican regime death, though an ignoble one, was thrice welcome; so like the game cock it was, the pride of Mr. Everett's hennery, actually committed suicide Wednesday morning, by thrusting its neck in a crack of a fence and there hanging until death relieved it of its unhappy state.

The above is not a campaign lie, but an actual and truthful episode.

Democrats Must Help Give Kentucky the New Deal and the Square Deal.

sovereign state, it is just as well to acknowledge that the result was not the work of Republicans alone, but that many thousands of the most prominent and intelligent Democrats joined in the good work and voted the straight Republican ticket. As we have said before, it is time for the whole people to stand together for an honest and a representative state government, where the voice of the whole population will be free to aid in the great work soon to be inaugurated by the men just elected, for the development and progress of Kentucky's vast resources and the improvement of her public affairs generally.

With an entirely new and clean set of brainy men to administer the government and a Legislature nearly evenly divided in political sentiment, it will be seen that the outlook is most favorable for a novelty in Old Kentucky and just what we have been clamoring for, viz: An up-to-date and an intelligent "business administration."

It seems the irony of fate that the new State Capitol at Frankfort is to be occupied for the first time by a Republican Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and an entire new set of state officials. There will be a rapid emptying of the Angean stables and a quick look at the books after December 10th, when A. E. Willson and W. H. Cox are inaugurated.

There will also be a rush for the patronage pie counter, and these official positions are going to be quite difficult to fill with the right sort of men. However, we haven't got to that hill yet.

Now that Old Kentucky has at last come into her own and has swung into the Republican column, let the watchwords in every one of the 119 counties within her borders be for—"Progress and the New Kentucky."

RIVERS THAT HIDE

SOME TRUANT STREAMS OF THE FAR WEST.

Many Run for Miles Underground and Reappear Above Non-Porous Soil—Peculiar Course of Oregon River.

The "lost rivers" of the far west as a rule head in mountainous areas and rush downward into bowl-like valleys, where they incontinently vanish. Some of them reappear miles from the vanishing point, while others are lost forever.

The floors of the valleys into which they flow generally are comparatively level and are built up of loose sands and gravels washed down from the rocky and forest-clad slopes, which absorb the water and through which it percolates slowly beneath the surface.

When the slow-moving underground current encounters an obstruction, as it often does, in the shape of a natural dike or the rocky rim of the lower end of the valley, the water is forced to the surface and the stream is born again.

The San Gabriel and the Los Angeles rivers exhibit the same characteristics, but disappear and reappear less often in their much shorter course to the sea.

At some points these sunken rivers flow for long distances under a wide stratum of impervious material where the water is under considerable pressure. When wells are driven through this stratum an artesian flow results.

Another peculiar stream is the Deschutes, which drains a large area in central Oregon. It is known to hydrographers all over the world for the extraordinary regularity of its flow throughout the year. This is accounted for by the porous lava formation which constitutes a portion of the drainage area. When the streams encounter this sheet of lava they are taken up by the sponge-like material and disappear from sight, passing beneath and through the lava and finally emerging through dark caverns and deep canyons into the main stream.

This wonderful lava bed is nature's regulator. It swallows up the floods that come down the steep slopes. It absorbs the rains and snows and then releases them slowly through a filter miles in length into the Deschutes. Day after day, year after year, its flow is uniform and its waters sparkling and clear. For this reason, probably, it is the finest trout stream in America.

New Mexico also has a truant stream—the Rio Mimbres. It drains many miles of mountain country in the southern part of the territory, and for a time is a stream of importance. Then, as if tired of existence, it flows out upon the plains near Deming and is lost forever, swallowed up in the loose sand and gravel.

The Pecos, too, is a truant at times and seeks seclusion beneath the surface, coming up miles below in artesian springs of great volume.

Old Ibsen Mss.

A very remarkable discovery has just come to light in the finding of important Ibsen manuscripts, written previous to 1864. The papers include a complete epic poem of some 20,000 words, in which are to be seen ideas which evidently were the basis for many of his later dramas, especially for "Brand," one of his greatest plays. The manuscripts had been left in Rome at the Scandinavian association when Ibsen left that city in 1864. They were put away and forgotten, and when the society moved away they were then sold with a lot of rubbish. A Dane, Pontopidean, found them some years ago in an antiquarian's shop and purchased them as curiosities. Afterward he returned to Copenhagen, where he died, bequeathing the manuscripts to the Royal Library upon condition that they be published by Prof. Carl Larsen. Ibsen's illness prevented Larsen from consulting with him, and it is only now after the dramatist's death, that permission from his heirs has been secured.

Nature Fake.

Ants are really very long-lived, considering their minuteness. A naturalist had two queens under observation for ten years and one of Sir John Lubbock's ant pets lived into her fifteenth year. Ants are very tenacious of life after severe injury. Following the loss of the entire abdomen they sometimes live two weeks, and in one case a headless ant, carefully decapitated by aseptic surgery, lived for 41 days. A carpenter ant, after being submerged eight days in distilled water, came to life upon being dried, so that they are practically proof against drowning. They can live long periods without food; in one case the last lasted nearly nine months.

The Modern Flats.

Two flat dwellers met on State street. "Where are you living now?" asked one. "In three small stalls," answered the second, "but only two of them are dark. Where are you living?" "My sister and I," replied the first, "have taken six dark closets opening into a hall."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

About the Figures of the Sweeping Republican Victory in Old Kentucky.

The Majority is Growing All the Time. McChord Defeated For Railroad Commissioner.

With returns from 110 out of 119 counties it is indicated that the majority of Willson for Governor is 18,600.

The Legislature still in doubt, but the Democrats will probably have a small majority on joint ballot.

Grinstead is elected Mayor of Louisville over Tyler by 4,683. Chairman Albert Scott claims that Willson is elected by over 18,000. Tarleton says he is elected by 20,000. He runs ahead of the ticket in several counties.

Later returns from the Eleventh district show Republican gains over first reports.

It looks like Appelgate is defeated for Appellate Judge by Lassing by less than 1,000.

Fayette county elects a Republican Representative.

E. L. Krieger, Republican, elected Mayor of Newport by 291. A. E. Willson carried Campbell county.

John L. Craig, Republican, was elected Mayor of Covington by 581 votes. Willson carried Kenton county by nearly 2,000.

Breathitt county went for Willson, and so did Hager's county, Boyd; the latter by a large majority—800.

The Republicans swept the platter clean in Louisville.

By the victory the Republicans gain one Senator and eight Representatives in the General Assembly of Kentucky from the Congressional District.

The stock of former Governor Bradley has taken a boost and he is being boomed for United States Senator.

In the last Legislature the Democrats had a majority of seventy-two on joint ballot. It is expected that this will be reduced to a majority of about twelve in the next Legislature.

By the election of A. T. Siler in the Third Railroad District and L. P. Tarleton in the Second over C. C. McChord, the Commission is now Republican.

Cattlettsburg gave Willson 11 majority, the first Republican majority in the history of the city.

NINTH DISTRICT ELECTION.

In Bracken county, Reynolds, Democrat, was elected Representative by nearly 350 majority.

Fleming—J. T. Shanklin, Republican candidate for Representative, was elected by about 34.

The Nicholas-Robertson District has a Democratic Representative Tempelman getting 1,677 votes against Kenton, Republican, 1,126; Robertson county's vote for the same candidates was 570 for Tempelman and 400 for Kenton.

Greenup—For Representative, C. W. G. Hannah, Republican, has a majority of 104.

Speechless, But Graphic. A knowledge of the art of drawing is sometimes very useful. A well-known London caricaturist had done himself very well at a dance and was being put into a cab by some friends, none of whom knew where he lived, and he himself was more or less speechless. At last, however, he managed to extricate a pencil and a sheet of paper from his pocket and drew a sketch of a well-known church steeple in Langham place. They all recognized it, and, with shrieks of laughter, handed it to the cabman, who remarked: "All right, I know it—Langham street," and drove off.

When the Heart is Touched. It is an exquisite and beautiful thing in our nature that when the heart is touched and softened by some tranquil happiness or affectionate feeling the memory of the dead comes over it most powerfully and irresistibly. It would seem as though our better thoughts and sympathies were charms, in virtue of which the soul is enabled to hold some vague and mysterious intercourse with the spirits of those whom we dearly loved in life.—Dickens.

SOME STATEMENTS REGARDING NEW THEORY

Followers of Cooper and His Novel Ideas Give Reason for Their Belief in Him.

With a theory that human health is dependent on the stomach and with a medicine which he says proves this theory, L. T. Cooper, a comparatively young man, has built up an immense following during the past year. Cooper has visited most of the leading cities of the country, and in each city has aroused a storm of discussion about his beliefs and his medicines. Wherever he has gone, people have called upon him by tens of thousands, and his preparation has sold in immense quantities.

The sale of this medicine has now spread over the entire country, and is growing enormously each day. In view of this, the following statements from two of the great number of followers which he now has, are of general interest.

Mrs. Agnes Viggenhouser, of 942 St. Louis Avenue, Chicago, has the following to say on the subject of the Cooper preparations: "For more than ten years I was broken down in health. I could not sleep and I was very nervous. Gradually I began to lose my memory, until I could not remember things from one day to another. I had severe pains and cramps in my body, and I would at times see dark spots before my eyes. I was unable to do any work whatever, as my strength was failing. I had no appetite, nor could I take any medicine. I had about given up hope of ever being well again when I read of Mr.

Cooper's remedies. I decided to give them a trial, and I began to feel better at once. After taking the medicine for two weeks I can say that I am a new woman. I can eat with enjoyment, the pains in my body have left me, and I am stronger than I have been for years.

"I cannot say enough for Mr. Cooper's remedies. They are wonderful, for they have done everything claimed for them in my case." Another statement by Mr. W. B. Stewart, 109 W. Madison St., Chicago, is as follows: "I have had stomach trouble for years, and anyone who is afflicted this way knows what an awful distressed feeling it causes. Many a time I have felt that I would give most any price to be cured. It was by accident that I heard of this new Cooper's remedies. I immediately made up my mind to buy a treatment of him. I used it for about two weeks, and it is impossible to tell how much good it has done me. I feel altogether different. I have more life and energy than I have had for years. This medicine certainly does stimulate and strengthen the whole system. Tired feeling and weak condition of the stomach has entirely passed away. I feel well again."

We sell Cooper's celebrated medicines which have made this wonderful record in all parts of the country.—T. J. Chenoweth.

NOVEMBER OUTLOOK

Prof. Marsh Prophesies Month Will Be One of Blizzards

Prof. W. W. Marsh, the noted weather prophet, promises for the month of November many storms of sleet and snow, and the outlook generally is everything but cheerful. The following is the forecast:

"This month will be quite stormy in all sections of the United States, with changeable temperature, the rains turning to sleet and snow, with cold waves. Some very cold weather will be experienced during the month. The Southern and Gulf States will experience severe storms during the month, the rainfall being heavy and winds high with cold waves. Between the 1st and 3d—colder, wind and rain-storms. Between 7th and 10th—unsettled stormy weather, changeable temperature. Rain, probably snow. Between 11th and 14th—storms with changeable temperature, wind and rain, probably changing to sleet and snow.

WOMEN'S WOES.

Maysville Women are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidneys only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people you know. Mrs. J. B. Gibson of 22 East Fourth street, Maysville, Ky., says:

"The prompt and thorough action of Doan's Kidney Pills should recommend them to every one suffering from backache or kidney trouble. I have known the value of this remedy for several years. Its use in my case proved to me that it is a reliable kidney cure and cannot be excelled for backache or weakness of the kidneys. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills before and I should advise every sufferer to get a supply and try them."

The next regular meeting of the Ninth District Publishers' League will be held in this city Saturday.

Gage marks 16.9 and rising.

The two-cent fare on railroads has hurt the passenger traffic on the Mississippi river, but it has not affected travel on the Ohio.

The Cincinnati and Memphis packets, Georgia Lee and Peters Lee, will soon resume their places in the trade. They have been waiting until the river gets at a stage which will enable them to run continuously.

Now that the cool weather is coming on, the roustabouts and deckhands on the rivers at all points show a disposition to work, and the packet companies are not experiencing so much difficulty in securing hands.

As a result of the high price of labor, steamboatmen have raised the rate for handling cotton. At present the charges on a bale of cotton between Vicksburg and New Orleans is $1.25. Heretofore it was $1.

The Harry Brown, fifteen boats, two barges and one model; Exporter, seventeen boats and three barges; Alice Brown and Raymond Horner twenty boats and two barges each, are the boats in the last fleet to leave Pittsburgh.

The Central Passenger Association has declined to grant special rates to the delegates who will attend the Ohio Valley Improvement Convention in Wheeling November 14th and 15th, although the privilege has been granted during the past thirteen years. The excuse given was that the states in the territory had adopted two-cent-a-mile rate.

The official call for the annual meeting of the Ohio Valley Improvement Association at Wheeling on November 14th and 15th—the thirtieth of the series—has been issued by President John L. Vance and Secretary J. F. Ellison. The Wheeling Press, together with the civic organizations of the Convention city, promise not only a cordial welcome to the great interests of the Ohio Valley, but insist that the meeting will be the most successful one of all.

IN THE CHARACTER OF THE

Men's, Young Men's and Boys' CLOTHING

This store fulfills the highest possible mission of a modern retail establishment, in fact, our ambition is not so much to have the biggest business as it is to have the best business in the city. If bigness comes, as it often does from a policy of creating a new standard of quality, then we accept bigness as the result of our efforts rather than the object of them. If you want distinction in your clothes, a style and pattern that will separate you from ordinary dressers, appearance that gives an air of refinement, there is but one store to visit.

OUR CLOTHING IS NO BETTER than our SHOES

For we are the leaders in both lines. The Crossette, the Stetson, the M. & K., the three best Shoes made. Prices range FROM $3 to $6.

COL. AMOS GREEN

Of Mason County Discusses Politics and "Other Things" While in Texas

Livingston, Texas, cor. Houston Chronicle.

Colonel Amos Green, a prominent attorney of Mason county, Ky., is here in the interest of some land matters in this community. Colonel Green is over 80 years of age, but does not look to be more than 50, and is as spry and active as a much younger man. He attributes his wonderful preservation to the purity of the article that made Kentucky famous, but says such rights in his state are so common as to pass unnoticed.

Colonel Green is a very entertaining conversationalist, and attracts little groups of listeners wherever he goes. In speaking of presidential possibilities, he says it now looks like Taft will receive the Republican nomination, but that Hughes is his strongest opponent. He thinks the only way in which Roosevelt will be the nominee will be a failure of the convention to nominate Taft, and that then Roosevelt will accept the nomination rather than let it go to some one else. He says there is little difference between Roosevelt and Bryan, but that Bryan is the more conservative of the two.

Women do not love the men so much as they love to have the men love them.

Commissioner's Sale

MASON CIRCUIT COURT.

Bessie M. Morgan and als. i On Petition Ex Parte. i Pursuant to a judgment rendered herein October 3d, 1907, the undersigned will sell at public outcry, on the premises in Washington Precinct, in Mason county, Ky., to the highest and best bidder, at 2 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, November 16, 1907,

A tract of land lying and being in the Washington Precinct, in Mason county, Ky., being tract No. 6 on the plat of division filed with the Commissioner's report in the action of Daniel Morgan et al. on petition ex parte in the Mason County Court, and bounded as follows:

Beginning at figure 43 on the plat, a stone corner to Hunter; thence with Hunter's line south 3° W. 49 poles, 13 links to a stone corner to lot No. 5; thence with the line of same N. 78° W. 127 poles to a stone in a line of No. 4; thence with the line of same N. 3° E. 40 poles 3 links, passing through a double wild cherry tree at the pike to a stake on the South side of the Murphysville pike in Hunter's line; thence with said line South 87° E. 127 poles to the beginning; containing 55 acres, together with all the privileges and appurtenances thereunto belonging, being the same tract of land that was conveyed by E. L. Worthington, Special Commissioner of the Mason County Court, in an action then pending in the County Court entitled Daniel Morgan et al. on petition ex parte, by deed dated July 10th, 1899 and recorded in Mason County Court Clerk's office beginning on page 278 in Deed Book No. 100.

Said property will be sold on a credit of six, twelve and eighteen months, but the shares of Edith H. Morgan and Julia Graham Morgan shall remain a lien on the land and said bearing interest until they become of age or their guardian shall execute the bond required by Section 493 of the Civil Code of Practice. The purchaser must execute sale bond with good surety bearing legal interest from date until paid, and a lien will be retained on the property sold. Said property cannot be divided without materially impairing its value and is being sold for division of the proceeds among the owners thereof.

LEWRIGHT BROWNING, Special Commissioner. Salles & Slattery, A*orneys. oc31 no7-12
